

BOOTH CONSTRUCTION WITH A SYSTEM

Dear ladies and gentlemen, building a booth at a trade fair is getting more complex and expensive year by year especially considering developments in the field regarding sustainability.

These trends lead to an increase of booths built with a construction system which get lost in the crowd or are designed less appealing.

We are working with a system which offers a high degree of flexibility while maintaining a comparably low pricing structure.

We created three different packages that are bookable as seen for the budget mentioned on the upcoming slides.

In addition, we implemented practice cases which also have been built with the same system but are considered as individual builds.

We are looking forward to our cooperation,
Your NEW LINE team
